DRAMA IN THE AD COLUMN

To students of modern history, the classified columns of newspapers are as important in composing the picture of an era as battles, dates or the oratorical profundities of politicians spread so lavishly over the front pages.

Where else but in the classified "help wanted" columns can one measure the startling contrast between the conditions of labor today and its status ten years ago, say, during the depression? Then, the pages were heavily burdened with pleas for work, spreading column on column the tragic tale of want and worry. Now, the columns carry the happier story of good jobs everywhere, with high salaries and new incentives competing for the worker's attention.

Where else but in the classfiied ads can one find a better picture of the housing shortage prevailing in most of California today? A few years ago every community had its quota of vacant houses and unoccupied business buildings. People couldn't afford to rent them, and every community's loss was reflected in its lengthy "for rent" columns. Today, with war workers and new residents cramming the Coast, the want ads, particularly in the metropolitan areas, plead for living quarters.

As perhaps no other medium, the classified columns of newspapers image the daily lives of the people, their comings and goings, their routine transactions, their economic condition.

Today they show a people readjusting their lives to new requirements, working at unaccustomed tasks, making the best of war-time shortages by exchanging among themselves the things needed to ease the burdens of war.

Tomorrow, those same people, newly united with their sons and daughters now in war services, will still be going about the prosaic but inspiring business of living in an era that mirrors its own moods and records its own doings so faithfully, in its classified advertising columns.

WANTED: MORE MAIL FROM HOME

Did you ever hear of a soldier getting too much mail? Neither did we. There just isn't any such thing. And it is well to bear that fact in mind.

Mail from home is just as important as food, ammunition and guns. If the men "out there" or "over there" don't hear from their families regularly, they get worried—and worried soldiers can't fight as well as those who are frequently reassured that all is well back home. Even when a fighting man must be told that things aren't so well, it is better for him to know it than to hear nothing at all. One should be very sure, however, that unpleasant news is something which the serviceman should know before writing it.

You may have heard of the group of American soldiers who were surrounded by the Japs. Word got through that the mail had just arrived in camp. The Japs were killed in the rush of those boys to get their mail. Yes, it does sound like a tall story, but it brings out the point that our men in service "go" for mail as they do for nothing else.

So write often. Short letters sent frequently are better than lengthy ones written only occasionally.

If we do the writing, they will do the fighting. Certainly that isn't asking too much of us.

PARIS

The "march to the east" has long been looked upon by the Germans as necessary to the fulfillment of the "destiny" of the Fatherland.

Now the Germans are marching east—east from Paris.

The fall of that city cannot fail to give Frenchmen, both in France and throughout the world, a sense of joy unparalleled in their modern history. To no other nation does its capital city mean more than Paris does to France. As has been said, Paris is France.

For more than four long years that beautiful metropolis has been the tomb of memories of a France that was once gay and free. On June 14, 1940, the Nazis swarmed into the city without a shot being fired in its defense. The French armies were too demoralized to repeat the miracle of the Marne. The French people were bewildered and confused. Unlike the British, they did not have a Churchill to rally them with magic oratory and bold defiance of the foe. Their leaders failed them in the hour of national travail. Worse still, some of them had already betrayed them to the Nazis.

It has taken four years of intense military preparation from without and incessant sabotage from within to bring the hour of liberation for Paris. Freedom for the entire nation cannot be far distant.

At this time in 1940 the outlook for France seemed hopeless. Hitler was poised on the Channel coast to strike the blow against England that would complete Germany's domination of Europe. The air blitz against London was already under way. Hitler's jubilant troops awaited only the word to "sail against England." That word never came although scores of thousands of his men succeeded in reaching England—as prisoners of war.

Now the nightmare of Hitler is beginning to fade from France. The people of Paris can once more look up, for "the darkness is past, the day is at hand."

San Mateo County Blood Bank Issues Urgent Appeal For Volunteer Donors

An urgent appeal for volunteer blood donors was issued today by the San Mateo County Blood Bank, 25 South El Camino Real, San Mateo.

The increasing demand for whole blood and plasma occasioned today's appeal by Miss Evelyn Tennis, blood bank staff member, who said:

"The county blood bank maintains an emergency supply of 1000 units of plasma. These are kept in the three major hospitals of the county and in fire stations on the coast side.

"This bank of a thousand units is to cope with any large scale emergency demand. From time to time it is drawn on to fill the needs of hospitals. However, at the time of withdrawals like amounts are replaced in order to keep the supply fresh and maintain it at its 1000 unit level.

"Now, with increased demands on the county blood bank it is necessary for more donors to show their patriotism, so that we may meet all demands and not lessen our 1000 unit mark in reserve stock.

"We ask donors to telephone San Mateo 3-1424 for an appointment. It takes but a few minutes time. It is painless and it is not injurious to become a blood donor."

Extension Service Plans Radio Program

Farmers, victory gardeners, suburbanites, and home makers will form the radio audience for a new breakfast hour program by the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California, to be broadcast over KQW, beginning Monday, 6:15 a. m., August 28.

This new public service feature of KQW, Country Life Journal of the Air, will stress farming and food production in the Bay Area counties, and members of the staff of War Emergency Food Production Assistant L. C. Barnard, of the Agricultural Extension Service office in Santa Clara and San Mateo counties, will participate in the program from time to time.

Timely problems and news of interest to such an audience will be broadcast every week day at that hour. Farmers, home-makers, 4H Club boys and girls of Santa Clara and San Mateo counties will occasionally be guests on the program. Specialists from the Agricultural Extension Service will be interviewed on subjects of interest and educational value to farmers and home food production listeners.

KID VICTORY

Spanish Effect In Bright Red

FASHIONED of red felt and grosgrain ribbon, the hat worn by CBS actress Elena ("Life Can Be Beautiful") Moore achieves a Spanish effect with the toreador fringe of balls from the top of the low crown to the small brim. Matador red is the shade featured in Elena's hat, and she wears it with matching suede gloves. Colorful glove and hat combination with basic dark dresses are this season's solution to the wardrobe problem.

Vegetables taste better, cooked right!

Use the fresh vegetables that are available now, ingeniously. Make them more enjoyable, for the whole family! Modern methods save your time, and make them taste better. Here are some Bureau-tested hints:

FRESH CORN

Boiled corn-on-the-cob rarely requires more than 10 minutes' cooking time, often less. Cook only a few ears at a time, in a large amount of boiling water.

Broiled corn-on-the-cob takes about the same cooking time (put the husked corn about 3 inches from the broiler unit, and brush with butter or margarine from time to time).

Don't forget to serve such delicacies as Corn Chowder, Corn Fritters, Corn Pudding.

FRESH PEAS

Cook them uncovered in a small amount of water, from 10 to 25 minutes. There should be hardly any water left when the peas are finished. Toss in a sprig of mint for special flavor.

A pound of peas, as you buy 'em, will result in 2 generous or 3 small servings. A pound of shelled peas equals about one cupful.

TOMATOES

Broil halves of unpeeled tomatoes with cut side up (rack 4 inches from broiling unit); after 5 minutes, dot with butter or margarine and season with salt and pepper; broil 5 minutes.

Slash a medium peeled tomato almost through several times, vertically, and fill in between with cottage cheese or sliced avocado or cucumber.

SUMMER SQUASH

To saute, cut in ½-inch slices, dip in flour (well seasoned), and saute in butter or margarine till browned (about 10 minutes).

Mrs. America Meets The War - -

Mrs. America, don't throw away the BACK cover of your old "A" ration book if you aren't planning to wean your jalopy. Renewals for the new "A" gasoline ration will start, Friday, August 25. You may get your application from your local board or any service station. Then attach your tire inspection record and the back cover of your old "A" book and mail it to your board. It's as simple as that!

There's been a rumor going around that there's to be a holiday—but it isn't sugar says OPA. If you are in the home canning for resale business you may secure up to 250 pounds per family unit, but you must follow the same rules as any other dealers.

If you are feeling blue after paying your bills on the first of the month just remember you have made fifty points. September 1 five more blue stamps worth ten points each will become valid for an indefinite period. You will then be able to spend stamps G5, H5, J5, K5 and L5.

Have you recently picked up bag and baggage and moved into a new city? Perhaps then you are trying to equip your temporary home with second-hand household equipment. When you are shopping remember to keep an eye peeled for the merchant's maximum prices. They will protect against any overcharges.

Mrs. America, if you are planning to dine out remember that restaurant prices are now under price control. When you scan the menu watch for the standard placard 28" x 21" which lists the items and prices of forty basic menu items.

Don't let that extra hour hang heavy over your head. There's a big job to do at your local War Price and Rationing Board. Ask about the work panel assistants are doing to bring about ceiling price compliance and to combat inflation. You can turn that wasted hour into manpower.

Are you entitled to wear a "target" lapel button? You are if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day. It's your badge of patriotism.

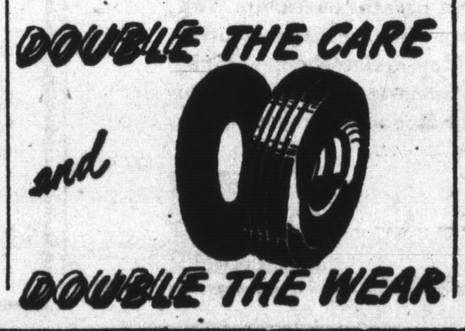
Is Cooking Really 'Dangerous Profession'?

This year's June bride who is just about now making good use of the arnica and adhesive tape might echo the declaration of Paratrooper Romeo Casavant, a cook at the Parachute school, Fort Benning, Georgia, that "cooking is a dangerous profession."

Convalescent from a shell fire wound after participation in heavy overseas action with a famous Parachute Infantry Regiment, T-5 Casavant declares he is getting more burns and cuts every day as a cook than he ever got in combat. He plans to work for a dairy after the war because he never heard of any one "burning his hands on a cow."

FILM FESTIVAL

"Of Mice and Men" with Betty Field, Lon Chaney jr., and Burgess Meredith, will be shown at the Jewish Community Center, California and Presidio, Wednesday, August 30 at 8:15 p. m. as part of the Summer Film Festival.



READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

One of the most fantastic episodes of the war in the South Pacific is the story of the crew of the U. S. S. Scimitar, officers and sailors all fresh out of training school, who captured the Japanese destroyer the Hokaidoze, rechristened it the U. S. S. Hokeydokey, and used it to destroy an entire Japanese convoy.

W. C. CHAMBLISS, U.S.N.R.

The full details of this amazing adventure are told in "Boomerang" by Commander William Chambliss. Commander Chambliss was one of the only two seasoned navy men on the Scimitar. But what the others lacked in sea-going experience, they made up for in other ways.

Marston, the gunnery officer, had been a prosperous banker before the war. For his vacations he had done a bit of duck-shooting. When a Japanese plane threatened to bomb the ship, he brought it down with one shot. When the skipper, who knew how limited his gunnery practice had been, asked how he had done it, he explained, "The theory of shooting down a plane from the surface is just like shooting ducks. Only with the duck, you just get one shot."

Then there was Ensign Bull, a former commercial photographer. He was the one who suggested they camouflage the ship with palms and spray lacquer on the leaves to preserve them — the same way he had done with plant props in his work. It was through that disguise that the Scimitar was able to surprise and capture the much larger Hokaidoze.

The story of "Boomerang" should make a rousing movie and has, in fact, already been bought by Twentieth Century-Fox.

The Book-of-the-Month Club selection for October will be "The World of Washington Irving" by Van Wyck Brooks. This is the third "panel" on the great mural of American literature Mr. Brooks is creating. The first two volumes were "The Flowering of New England" and "New England: Indian Summer" which was also a book-of-the-month.

OPERETTA AT CURRAN MONDAY

The popularity of the enchanting and immortal music of Johann Strauss is undoubtedly the reason why "The Waltz King" opening at the Curran, San Francisco, Monday, August 28, which gay operetta depicts in music and story of the life, loves and music of Strauss, broke box office records last year when in but nine weeks of its run, playing Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago, the piece grossed over a quarter of a million dollars. At the Curran in 1943 it packed the capacious Curran for three solid weeks.

Richard Bonelli, of the Metropolitan Opera, sings this season once again the role of the colorful Johann Strauss. Charlotte Boerner, popular concert recitalist, is the new Henrietta; Anthony Marlowe and Marjorie Cooke sing their original roles. Litzie Helm is the vixenish Vicky; Jack Gardner, popular stage, screen and radio comedian, furnishes chief amusement as the Prime Minister; James B. Carson is Mandel, and Monroe Manning plays the interpolated Count Poleski.

A large singing chorus augments the symphony orchestra. The Kathryn Etiehner ballets "The Fountain" and "The Emperor's Ballet" headed by American prima ballerina, Beth Dean, and assisted by Hubert Bland, Ivy Kirby and Lois Goodman, stop the show at every performance by their colorful choreography.

The entire production of "The Waltz King" has been staged by Theodore Bachenheimer, an authority on Straussiana,, with management of Eugene Schwartz.

There will be a bargain priced matinee Wednesday, August 30. Regular matinees are every Saturday and Sunday.
